

DRIVE

Supporting young men to build confidence, skills, and relationships

Drive is a programme is designed to allow young men aged 14-17 living in Southland to explore possibilities in an environment of support and safety.

Adventure Southland have worked with young people for many years and across a variety of programmes, including school camps, Lions Leadership, and Southland ALIVE. We have identified a need for a programme catering specifically to young men looking to build confidence or participation in the outdoors. Engaging with students in outdoor activities to gain confidence and build relationships is core part of our business, and immensely rewarding for both participants and our team.

Drive aims to build skills, motivation, and relationships through participation in outdoor adventure activities. Supporting students to experience new activities and learn new skills builds the confidence needed to continue engaging in outdoor recreation.

During the programme, participants will learn basic outdoor skills over three after-school sessions. These sessions will prepare students for a weekend of adventure in Fiordland National Park, where they will have the opportunity to experience and build on tramping, camping, rock climbing, abseiling, caving, and bushcraft skills.

This programme is fully funded by Tū Manawa Active Aotearoa.
